2 Qualification information

2.1 Qualification aim and design

The VTCT (Skillsfirst) Level 3 Diploma in Specialist Support for Teaching and Learning in Schools (RQF) has been designed to extend the work-related focus of the Level 3 Certificate in Supporting Teaching and Learning in Schools (RQF). There is a wide range of optional units covering different aspects of supporting teaching and learning, which allows the learner a choice to select units in a specialist area, or to spread their choice of units across several specialist areas.

There is also the potential for the qualification to prepare learners for employment in a particular vocational sector and it is suitable for those who have decided that they wish to enter a specific area of work. The qualification has also been designed to assess the knowledge and competence required to work in the sector and also forms part of the Skillsfirst Advanced Apprenticeship in Supporting Teaching and Learning in Schools.

2.2 Progression opportunities

Learners achieving the Level 3 Diploma in Specialist Support for Teaching and Learning in Schools (RQF) can progress on to higher level qualifications. Learners can also progress on to a foundation degree e.g. for teaching assistants or supporting teaching and learning training and/or assessment against the higher level teaching assistant professional standards to achieve HLTA status.

Other progression routes include employment opportunities existing within primary, special and secondary schools in both the state and independent sectors. Opportunities also exist to move into other roles across the wider children's workforce e.g. child care, play work or youth work.

4 Centre requirements

4.1 Resources

Centres must possess the physical resources needed to support the delivery of the programme and the assessment of knowledge and skills, which should therefore be of industry standard. Where specific resources are required these have been indicated in individual units.

4.2 The Teaching Agency

This qualification is based upon units developed by TDA which reflect the national occupation standards (NOS) for Supporting Teaching and Learning in Schools. This qualification is endorsed by The Teaching Agency who are the recognised sector body responsible for the training and development of the school workforce and their contact details are:

Piccadilly Gate
Store Street
Manchester
M1 2WD

Phone 0870 496 0123

This handbook provides details from the TDA's RQF assessment principles, which centres will need to apply in order to assess and quality assure the Level 3 Diploma in Specialist Support for Teaching and Learning in Schools (RQF) and includes

- occupational expertise of those who assess performance, provide expert witness and internally verify assessments continuous professional development
- The complete RQF assessment principles booklet is available for view and to download from the TDA website www.tda.gov.uk

4.3 The Teaching Agency and Skills for Care (SfC)

The Level 3 Diploma in Specialist Support for Teaching and Learning in Schools (RQF) is supported by the Teaching Agency. However a number of units need to be assessed in line with the RQF assessment principles developed by SfC. Their contact details are:

Skills for Care
West Gate
6 Grace Street
Leeds
LS1 2RP

Phone 0113 245 1716

info@skillsforcare.org.uk

4.4 The occupational expertise of those who assess performance and internally quality assure the assessment of evidence

Assessors must demonstrate that they are capable of carrying out the full requirements within the competency units they are assessing. Being occupationally competent means they are also occupationally knowledgeable. This occupational competence should be maintained annually through clearly demonstrable continuing learning and professional development.

Assessors must also have the relevant knowledge and understanding, and be able to assess this in those units:

- designed to test specific knowledge and understanding, or
- where knowledge and understanding are components of competency

This occupational knowledge should be maintained annually through clearly demonstrable continuing learning and professional development.

Those carrying out internal quality assurance must be occupationally knowledgeable in the area they are assuring. They must ensure that the assessment of evidence for units is of a consistent and appropriate quality.

Skillsfirst will ensure that those making assessment decisions and those involved in the quality assurance of those decisions have the necessary expertise to do so, which may include having, or be working towards, appropriate qualifications.

4.5 Expert witnesses

The breadth and range of activities covered by the Level 3 Diploma in Specialist Support for Teaching and Learning in Schools (RQF) mean that the assessor may find it useful to draw on the testimony of expert witnesses as part of the assessment process. Expert witnesses can be used to address any gaps in the technical and occupational competence of assessors, and for confidential or sensitive activities that are not appropriate for assessor observation.

Expert witnesses can be drawn from a wide range of people who can attest to performance in the workplace. Schools can support the assessment process by encouraging and supporting members of staff to act as expert witnesses. A qualified assessor will make the final judgement about a candidate's competence based on testimony provided by the expert witness together with other corroborating evidence.

An expert witness must:

- have a working knowledge of the area of the National Occupational Standards and the RQF units for which they are providing witness testimony
- be occupationally competent in their area of expertise
- have either any qualification that includes assessment of workplace performance and/or a professional work role which involves evaluating the everyday practice of staff

Experienced teaching assistants, higher level teaching assistants and teachers might act as expert witnesses across a range of units. However there are some units where expert witnesses may play an important role in filling any gaps in the occupational expertise of assessors

4.6 Continuous professional development (CPD)

Centres are expected to support their staff in ensuring that their knowledge remains current of the occupational area and of best practice in delivery, mentoring, training, assessment and verification/moderation, and that it takes account of any national or legislative developments.

4.7 Total Qualification Time (TQT)

Each qualification has a Total Qualification Time (TQT) value based on the total number of hours learning required to achieve it. The TQT value reflects the number of supervised learning hours required to achieve the knowledge and assessment requirements, plus the length of time a learner would need to take to achieve the skills and capabilities to be deemed competent. All RQF qualifications are subject to an evaluation process to determine their fitness-for-purpose.

5 Assessment

5.1 Summary of assessment methods

For this qualification, learners will be required to provide evidence for each unit which may be supplied via observation of workplace activities, witness testimony, professional discussion and questions, learner reports/reflective accounts and inspection of products, using evidence appropriate to the learner's job role.

5.2 Assessment principles

- Assessment decisions for criteria that must be assessed in the workplace, as identified in unit assessment requirements, must be made in a real work environment by an occupationally competent assessor.
- Assessment decisions for criteria that must be assessed in the workplace (competence based assessment criteria) must be made by an assessor with the expertise to make assessment decisions.
- Competence based assessment must include direct observation as the main source of evidence.
- Simulation may only be utilised as an assessment method for competence based assessment criteria where this is specified in the assessment requirements of the unit.
- Expert witnesses can be used for direct observation where:
  - they have occupational expertise for specialist areas, or
  - the observation is of a particularly sensitive nature
- The use of expert witnesses should be determined and agreed by the assessor.
- Assessment of criteria not identified in the unit assessment requirements as requiring assessment in the workplace may take place in or outside of a real work environment.

5.3 Recognition of prior learning (RPL)

RPL is a method of assessment that considers whether a learner can demonstrate that they can meet the assessment requirements for a component of a qualification through knowledge, understanding or skills that they already possess and do not need to develop through a course of learning. Should any opportunities for RPL be identified, it is important that a complete process of recognising prior experience and learning is undertaken, by ensuring that:

- it covers relevant or appropriate experience for previous activities, as well as accredited learning and qualifications
- it is incorporated into the assessment planning, with details of how this will take place
- mapping of prior learning to the national occupational standards to identify gaps is documented and auditable
- assessment methods or processes for recognising prior experience and learning, are documented and made available to the external verifier
- the audit trail covers the whole process and methodology of RPL
- the authenticity and currency of presented evidence is established by the assessor

This evidence will need to be referenced clearly on recording documentation and will need to be appropriately authenticated and validated, perhaps by an employer or expert witness.

Assessment must be valid and reliable to ensure the integrity of the award. The evidence gathered must meet the standards of the qualification or component and the assessment process must be subject to the same quality assurance procedures as any other assessment process.

In summary, evidence submitted to the RPL process must:

- be authentic and prove conclusively that RPL is based on the learner's own work;
- meet the requirements of the current the skills and knowledge requirements and be appropriate to the content of the component or qualification being considered for RPL;
- be sufficient to conclusively prove consistency of learner performance in meeting the skills and knowledge requirements.

STL44 – Provide bilingual support for teaching and learning

Unit reference number: D/601/7725

Level: 3

Credit value: 6

Guided Learning (GL) hours: 32

Unit aim

This unit provides the knowledge and skills needed to provide bilingual support for learners and their families whose first or dominant language is different to that used to deliver the curriculum. It is suitable for those who provide support for English as an additional language (EAL), or Welsh or Gaeilge as a second language. The unit involves using both the first and target language to support assessment and learning. It also involves supporting communication with families of bilingual learners.

Learning outcomes

There are four outcomes to this unit. The learner will:

LO1 Contribute to assessment of bilingual learners

LO2 Provide bilingual support for learners

LO3 Support communication with families of bilingual learners

LO4 Contribute to reviews of communication with families of bilingual learners

Unit content

Evidence requirements

Learners must provide a portfolio of evidence which contains evidence that all the assessment criteria have been met.

Assessment guidance

Initial assessment: provides the necessary information for the careful planning of learning activities needed for newly arrived learners including;

- first language and ethnic background
- fluency in English
- previous educational experience and achievements
- wider needs such as a learner's home situation

Bilingual learners: are those who have been exposed to two or more languages. The term encompasses both those who are newly arrived and who are new to the language used to deliver the curriculum, and those more advanced bilingual learners who can communicate confidently in the language used to deliver the curriculum but need further support with language use in academic contexts.

Relevant people: are those with a need and right to provide and receive information about bilingual learners as relevant to the setting e.g.;

- family members
- teachers responsible for the learner
- ethnic minority achievement coordinator
- bilingual language support teacher
- bilingual teaching assistants
- EAL specialist teacher
- language coordinator
- English/Welsh/Gaeilge language teacher
- relevant local authority advisory or peripatetic staff

Information sharing must always adhere to the setting's confidentiality policy and child protection procedures.

Specialist assessment: an assessment administered and interpreted by an appropriately qualified professional to explore specific needs, often in detail, e.g.;

- proficiency in the first language
- special educational needs
- health assessment
- care assessment

Personalised learning: maintaining a focus on individual progress, in order to maximise the capacity of all children and young people to learn, achieve and participate. This means supporting and challenging each learner to achieve national standards and gain the skills they need to thrive and succeed throughout their lives. 'Personalised learning' is not about individual lesson plans or individualisation, where children are taught separately, largely through a one-to-one approach.

Bilingual support strategies: e.g.;

- interpreting oral and written information
- using shared language or appropriate target language to explain information or instructions
- supporting the use of learners' first languages with peers and bilingual staff
- developing bilingual learning resources
- using appropriate bilingual books and materials to support learning
- selecting culturally relevant resources to increase motivation and involvement
- monitoring learners' understanding in ways that do not involve the use of the target language only
- exploiting previously used language to activate prior knowledge and link to learners' experience
- promoting thinking and talking in first languages to support understanding

Target language: is the additional or second language needed by bilingual learners i.e. English as an additional language (EAL) or Welsh/Gaeilge as a second language

Families: includes parents (mothers and fathers) and carers and extended and chosen families who contribute significantly to the wellbeing of individual learners and who may or may not have legal responsibility

Communication: includes verbal, non-verbal, informal and formal

Communication differences: between individuals which may create barriers to effective communication between them e.g.;

- language and cultural differences
- sensory impairment
- speech, language or communication impairment
- cognitive abilities
- emotional state
